Forecast for Tuesday 26 Jul 2022

Weather: Rather cloudy across Snowdonia Tuesday morning with the odd spot of drizzle on some westerly upslopes and an outside chance of the odd light shower. Cloud will gradually clearing southeastwards during the morning, with sunny spells developing widely by the afternoon. Likely to remain dry, with just an outside risk of an isolated light shower. A bright end to the day with clearing skies across the Park.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Above 95%, but 60% across far north initially.

Low Cloud and visibility: Patchy cloud obscuring some peaks initially, particularly across the north and east of the range cloud bases of 500-600m. Cloud bases lifting above the level of the summits by mid-morning before largely dissipating through the afternoon. Visibilities generally very good, although poor or very poor in any early drizzle.

Meteorologist's View

A fine day after the clearance of early cloud, with long sunny spells developing. Adequate sun protection is advised if spending time on the mountains, given the strong sunshine and high UV levels. Cloud cover early morning may make navigation more challenging.

Forecast for Wednesday 27 Jul 2022

Weather: Largely fine and dry across Snowdonia with patchy cloud and perhaps an isolated afternoon shower. High level cloud will increase from the west during the afternoon, turning sunshine somewhat hazy. Cloudier during the evening with a greater chance of showers, perhaps merging into a longer spell of rain overnight.

Maximum wind: Variable winds 10-15mph.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 95%

Low Cloud and visibility: Cloud bases remaining well above the level of summits. Visibility will be very good with distant hills fairly reliably visible throughout the day. Perhaps seeing some brief deteriorations in any late showers.

Temperature: Valleys: Plus 8 Celsius becoming plus 18 Celsius.
At 800m: Plus 6 Celsius becoming plus 12 Celsius.
Freezing level: Well above the summits.
